

Digital Curriculum Sustainability Discussion

October 19, 2017 ■ Cheshire, CT

How Are We Going to Keep This Up?

Gain context. Help teachers transition. Find your path for sustained transformation. This one-day event brings together education leaders for FREE professional development found nowhere else.

Why Attend?

By attending you will gain a hyper-focused understanding of the problems facing districts and schools to be sustainable. There is a core problem nearly every school has been trying to solve in only one way – but there are other ways.

With an unmatched national view on the education shift, the Learning Counsel provides context and research perspective.

Our sustainability discussions generate the important conversations with educators and administrators of what is happening within the education space. Disruption is at hand for the way teachers organize lessons and how leaders lead and it needs to be discussed, sorted and organized.

- Gain an update on the consumerized learning trend.
- See new technology from sponsor show-and-tell.
- Hear what other parts of the country are spending on digital curriculum.
- Learn what other schools cover specifically with student data privacy policies.
- Hear about strategy elements that schools are focused on right now.
- Learn how many new positions are being hired to manage digital curriculum.
- Gain an understanding of the top issues preventing digital adoptions now.
- See how the whole market has “flipped.”
- Find out what percentage of schools acknowledge Screen Learning.
- Learn what percentage of schools view digital content as their primary resource for core curriculum.

- Gain a view of what percentage of schools have standardized Tool Apps.
- And much more.

Every Digital Curriculum Sustainability Discussion event is FREE to educators. Multiple companies sponsor. Learning Counsel Certification of Professional Development available.
