

An opportunity for National Honor Society Members, Faculty Council members, and Honor Society advisors to come together to create enthusiasm for scholarship, stimulate a desire to render service locally and statewide, enhance and promote leadership skills, and focus on student member character development.

TRIP DRAWING

Every school attending the conference is eligible to win five prepaid registrations for the 2013 State National Honor Society Conference.

CANHS News

As of February 1, 2013, approximately 200 NHS and NJHS chapters have joined CANHS as state association members.

Program Format

The 2013 state conference program format will engage students in discussion and facilitate a plan to strengthen leadership skills leading to the development of an action plan for providing community service. Our guest speaker, Brittney Cavaliere, a former state student council president and high school valedictorian, will share her experiences as a leader within the community. She believes that student leaders—whether athletes, student council members or honor society members—can transform the inclusive communities that they serve. This idea will resonate well with honor society students based on the merits of scholarship, character, service and leadership. Participants attending this conference will return to their schools with a burning desire to engage their honor society chapters in outreach programs in support of bettering their local community.

Our workshop facilitator, Jen Buckley, will provide workshop materials to develop a blue print for action planning that will be “user friendly” for immediate implementation.
