Director’s Corner

Thank you to everyone who was able to join us at our last event of the school year: “Adventures in Leadership.” From morning yoga to afternoon Pound, and all of the team building activities inbetween it was a great way to end the school year.

And just like that, the school year is quickly coming to a close. A school year we are all simultaneously very proud of and desperate to forget about. I want to take a moment and thank you for all that you did this year to support your student leaders and your schools.

I also want to thank you for your continued support of CASC. This year CASC saw its greatest growth in membership and attendance. What to look forward to next year from CASC?

Statewide Service Project: CASC will be introducing a Statewide Service Project and goals for the 2021-2022 school year.

CT RISES: CASC is proud to launch this new initiative for the 2021-2022 school year. The acronym stands for Citizenship, Recognition, Inspiration, Service, Engagement, and Spirit. Each council/government is encouraged to use CT RISES as they plan their projects towards building a successful year.

Fall District Conferences: CASC will hold its first District meetings to be held in October and November to strengthen cooperation amongst local councils/governments.

Other Leadership Opportunities: CASC will offer training sessions for Student Officers in August and Advisors in September. (See "Upcoming Leadership Opportunities" for more details)

Return of Regular Programming: A relaunched Presidents Luncheon, Annual Spring Convention, and Adventures in Leadership are all scheduled to return. We will know as we get closer if these will be in person (fingers crossed) or virtual.

As you end the school year exhausted from the projects your council has run, overwhelmed with exams to grade, end of year evaluation meetings to prepare for, and graduations to participate in; it is important to stop and remember to take care of yourself. If COVID has taught us anything, it is the importance of taking time for ourselves. Please embrace what you have found to be the most helpful way to rest and get ready for the next school year.

Be safe, and as always thank you for your continued support of Student Leadership in Connecticut and remember to stay above the line.

CASC Executive Director
From the Student Executive Board
I’m so glad to welcome the new complete CASC board to you. We had our last event in May, Adventures in Leadership, where CASC and student government members around the state engaged in various challenges and activities to build camaraderie and teamwork skills. It was a blast and I’m looking forward to doing it in person next year at the ropes course.

DISTRICT UPDATE::
Working with the other districts we have prepared a Google Form that we will be sending out to Connecticut schools to collect information on how local councils/governments are organized so that we can better serve them. We have also been developing ideas for our district conference this fall. Some of the topics that we are looking into are “the art of compromise” and “changing your mindset to better handle any situation”.

JUNE PROJECT SPOTLIGHT::
Northwest Catholic Dodges the Pandemic Blues

The Spring Student Council season at Northwest Catholic High School, in West Hartford, is usually dominated by Field Day preparations and Student Council elections. This year, however, as with all of our schools, the pandemic upended much of the plans for school-wide in-person events. Faced with protocols that require events to be outside, include a maximum of two grade cohorts at a time, and take place during a 40-minute Advisory block, the student council members had to really think outside of the box. How to have an event that wouldn’t disappoint students (who typically enjoyed a 2-3 hour Field Day with Inflatables, food, and outdoor games) and boost school spirit? Council members decided to keep a traditional and much anticipated activity that had typically taken place in the gym during Field Day—the annual Dodgeball Tournament—but to transfer it outside and make it the signature aspect of the truncated outdoor event. The council members created a google form so that students could create teams and join the playoff roster; they also promoted the event through posters, Instagram, and personal pitches to every Advisory classroom. Over the course of two concurrent Advisory periods, students from all grades played in the tournament, watched, or played pickup games of basketball, volleyball, football, and soccer. Student council set up the event, provided music, snacks, and free ice pops. The result, was a needed boost in school spirit and joy during a week of perfect Connecticut spring weather.

“This was the first major school spirit event Northwest Catholic was able to have this year and we’re so glad it was a success!” says Anna Calendrillo, NWC Student Council Vice President and VP of the Central District. She credits the entire NWC Student Council for their help in planning, promoting, and executing a successful event.

Due to the current pandemic restrictions, Student Council elections at Northwest Catholic have been postponed to the start of the new school year so that, if all goes well, students may possibly be able to make their speeches in the auditorium in front of the student body.

CT RISES:: Ideas for this month

Remember to be focusing on your CT(citizenship), R(recognition), I(inspiration), S(service), E(engagement), S(spirit). Looking for a new project to run this month in your student council/government? Think about incorporating some of these suggestions into your calendar.

Inauguration/Awards Night

Type:: Inspiration

_Hold an end of year ceremony that both recognizes your graduating seniors and what they have contributed while also recognizing the rising leadership._ These ceremonies can include:

- Farewell speeches and gifts to the seniors.
- Searing in new officers.
- Senior advice to the incoming leadership team.
- Passing the gavel ceremony to the new president.
Certificates for seniors.
Superlatives.
Bestowing awards/recognitions.
Food, everyone loves food.

Summer Meetings
Type:: Inspiration

Hold a meeting in August with your Executives or Leadership team to write goals for the coming year. Be sure that the goals and values are shared by the entire group. Goals should be SMART, and consider using CT RISES when it comes to planning your projects to support the goals.

Some Councils/Governments choose to select a quote that they will use for the year as motivation. If you choose a quote be sure to display it in your meeting room, social media, and SWAG.

You may also want to use this opportunity to plan any first day of school activities to welcome back the students, faculty and staff.

We are always looking for new and exciting projects or events to highlight, if your council has a project that you would like to see highlighted in a newsletter please submit it here.

CT RISES:: PLANNING FOR THE YEAR

CASC is proud to launch a new initiative for the 2021-2022 school year:: CT RISES. The acronym stands for Citizenship, Recognition, Inspiration, Service, Engagement, and Spirit. Each council/government is encouraged to use CT RISES as they plan their projects towards building a successful year.

Step 1:: Make your Goals SMART
The Initiative begins with your council/government setting goals for the school year. These goals should be SMART – Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Relevant and Timely.

Specific - Clearly state the task you are working toward
Measureable - Track your progress to see results as you work
Achievable - Set a goal that is within a reachable level
Relevant - Make the goal your own. Meet your own needs and desires for success
Timely - Use a tangible time frame to keep you on task

Think of goals as:
- What do we want to accomplish this year
- How do we want to leave our mark on the school
Who will we influence and make a difference for this year

After brainstorming your goals for the year:

- Be sure to write the goals down – the most successful people/groups in the world are those who have written goals
- Share the goals with everyone – administrators, staff, student body
  - This will hold your group accountable
- Keep track of how you are doing with your goals
- Check off your list and CELEBRATE your accomplishments
- Evaluate

Step 2:: CTRISES – Creating Projects to support your Goals

Once your goals are written you will need projects to help you achieve them. Many times student councils get ahead of themselves and create project ideas first – don’t do that! Write your goals – so you know what you want to accomplish for the school year. For example:

- Our student council will increase school spirit and pride by having more students attend homecoming dance and participate in dress up days.
- Our student council will raise 100 more dollars for the Special Olympics this year than we did last year.

Both of these goals meet the SMART guidelines on the page before. However, they do not tell HOW these goals will be accomplished. This is the job of PROJECTS (events)!

This is where the CTRISES categories come into play:

Citizenship:: Projects that promote student voice in the school and community.
Examples of Projects:: Election with elements found in US Elections, Get out the vote campaign, School forums

Recognition:: Projects that recognize students and staff.
Examples of Projects:: Teacher Appreciation baskets, Teacher of the month, Support Staff of the Year

Inspiration:: Projects that teach and promote student leadership.
Examples of Projects:: Council/Government Retreats, Leadership days, Community leader guest speaker

Service:: Projects that serve the needs of the school and or community.
Examples of Projects:: Cards for Hospitalized Children/ nursing homes, Blankets for Babies, Blood Drive

Engagement:: Projects that teach students and make the school a better place.
Examples of Projects:: Anti-Bullying Program, Mock car crash, Ban the “R” word

Spirit:: Projects that improve school climate.
Examples of Projects:: Movie night, Freshmen Welcome, Pep Rally

Try to consider doing one great, well-done and specific project per month. Planning a project takes many hours of meetings and commitment on the part of your executive board, advisor and council. And remember we are always looking for new and exciting projects or events to highlight in the newsletter, if your council has a project that you would like to see highlighted in a newsletter please submit it here.
