

February 1 Tournament Results

Thirty-eight schools and 382 debaters came to our tournaments at Glastonbury, Greenwich and Masuk. Thanks to coaches Angela Sotomayor, Aaron Johnson and Jamie Sherry for their hospitality.

The topic was: Resolved: The use of drones for targeted killing of individuals should be prohibited.

The final round at Glastonbury was won by the Simsbury team of Kevin Gyrco and Matthew Smits on the Negative over the East Catholic team of Jonathan Ockert and Cole Tamburri on the Affirmative.

The final round at Greenwich was won by the Westhill team of Jason Gallant and Jacob Schwartz on Affirmative over the Greenwich team of Spencer Pevsner and Sam Aldershoff on the Negative.

The final round at Masuk was won by the Wilton team of Ryan Cross and Rachael Jones on Affirmative over the Joel Barlow team of Brooke Curto and Nicole Peterson on Negative.

Congratulations to all our trophy winners and 3-0 teams. You will find their names in the attached file.

You may view or download the complete January Results, as well as the resolution package at <http://ctdebate.org/CDAJan14.html> .

Our next tournament is on February 15 at Joel Barlow High School. The invitation has gone out and can be found on our website. This tournament is special in that we shall use the Parliamentary debate format that is popular at the college level in the US and internationally.

Our next regular tournament date is March 1 with hosts Darien High School, Guilford High School and Pomperaug High School. The invitation should go out on or about February 17.

To learn more about debating in Connecticut, visit <http://ctdebate.org> .