panel sessions

PLEASE SELECT 3 PANELS:

A. Coaching -

Members will speak to the rewards and demands of a coaching career. Speakers will be Arlene Salvati, Cheshire H.S. field hockey coach ; Amanda Adams, Quinnipiac University ice hockey coach; Gale Lackey, Wesleyan University volleyball coach; and Ally Jacques, Sacred Heart University assistant basketball coach.

B. Officiating -

You could be a part-time or full-time official. Female officials are in need in CT in all sports! How to get started, what is required, and what to prepare for will all be discussed. Speakers include: Lisa Ruggs, soccer; Donna Vavrinec, softball; and Angela Heidgard, swimming.

C. Athletic Administration -

The Athletic Director is one of the most visible jobs in Administration. They manage people and money in the best way possible to produce quality sports programs. The panel will consist of Debbie Chin, UNH; Pat Nichol, SCSU; and Marge Dolan, North Haven High School.

D. Facility Management -

Careers in this area are closely related to event planning, public relations, sales and management. Lisa Wilson-Foley of Blue Fox Run Golf Course in Farmington, Diane Uccello of Madison Square Garden, and Linda Wooster of Quinnipiac University will make up this panel.

E. Sports Journalism/Marketing -

From reporting the sports news to television broadcasting these panelists will inform you of experiences that led to their current positions. How to promote sports and how sports sells products will be covered thoroughly by: Lori Riley of the Hartford Courant; Megan Pattysen and Carol Stiff of ESPN; and Pam Batalis, Sports Marketing.

F. Elite Athletes -

Pitcher Danielle Henderson, USA Olympic Softball team, Alexandria Givan, hammer thrower, and super golfer Liz Janangelo will share how they developed their talent and pursued their goals.

G. Sports Medicine -

From physical therapist to sports trainer to orthopedic doctor, the choices of careers abound! Hear from: Kirsten Kolstad, Physician Assistant; Jacquelyn Kos, Chiropractor; and Patti Flynn, Athletic Trainer.

H. Sports Law -

Attorney Maureen Murphy of New Haven and Joel Barlow H.S. Administrator Pam Goodpaster will offer insight as to the preparation needed for a career in law.

I. Sport Psychology -

Professionals in the field work with coaches, athletes, teams and parents to develop strategies to enhance performance and fun and enjoyment in sports. Diane Schwartz of Westfield State College will be joined by Dr. Suzi D'Annolfo, Supervisor of Curriculum, Newington, and doctoral candidate Michele DiCorcia of Springfield College.
