Schooling for Critical Consciousness:

Engaging Black and Latinx Youth in Analyzing, Navigating, and Challenging Racial Injustice

by Scott Seider and Daren Graves (Harvard Press, 2020)

TWEETCHAT - DECEMBER 2, 2021 | 4-5 PM

The CAS Leaders "R" Readers Book Club is hosting a special Tweetchat on Thursday, December 2, 2021, from 4 - 5 PM to discuss the book "Schooling For Critical Consciousness: Engaging Black and Latinx Youth in Analyzing, Navigating, and Challenging Racial Injustice" by Drs. Scott Seider and Daren Graves. We will be using the hashtag #casreads, so be sure to use #casreads in all of your tweets and retweets during the tweetchat.

Co-author Scott Seider will be joining our tweetchat so this is your chance to get some of your questions answered. In addition, this is a great opportunity to discuss your thoughts and ideas about the book with CAS colleagues and friends. All administrators, educators, and stakeholders are invited to attend.

If you haven't done a tweetchat before, you may want to use Tweetdeck or Tchat.io. Either of these tools will make it easier to follow the tweetchat conversation. If you decide to use the Tweetchat app or website, you will want to add the hashtag #casreads into the search area. This allows you to follow all the comments made during our tweetchat in a single column. If you use Tchat.io you will want to add the #casreads hashtag in the text bar on the home screen. Both are an easy way to follow the tweetchat without other tweets getting in the way.

We hope you will join us for this great CAS Leaders "R" Readers Book Club event! Happy Tweeting, Everyone!
