Facilitator and Keynote Speaker

Gary McGuey

Gary McGuey is the current High School Practice Leader for Franklin Covey Education. He is a former educator, athletic director and author who spent the past 20 years traveling throughout North America - as well as internationally - visiting schools and working with stakeholders on topics related to leadership, trust, vision and personal development. Presently, Gary hosts a new podcast titled Realiteen Talks where he interviews young adults (from around the world) on relevant teen topics. He brings the rare mix of knowledge, humor and leadership experiences to every engagement. Gary conveys the message of "Learn it, Live it, and Give it" to his audiences through a variety of challenging hands-on, collaborative and interactive sessions. Participants leave inspired and encouraged to continue to reflect on their social and civic awareness as they move forward towards attaining their leadership goals.
