Diversity and Inclusion NEWSLETTER

“Celebrating Differences, Leading in Unity”

Diversity in NHS and NJHS

Diversity is showcased across the National Honor Society's and National Junior Honor Society's chapters nationally. Students are bonded together by academic and noble achievement during their middle school and high school years. Diversity has strengthened NHS and NJHS as it has brought students from a variety of backgrounds and perspectives together with a common goal of excellence and service. In order to be inducted as a part of NHS or NJHS, traits such as scholarship, leadership, service, and character are assessed regardless of color, religion, or ethnicity.

CANHS NEWS

2025-2026

Ebone F. Bell will be our keynote speaker for the CANHS Leadership Conference. We will explore topics such as diversity, perseverance, and being oneself confidently.

INCLUSIVITY TIPS

- Encourage those around you to express themselves
- Don't judge before getting to know someone
- Life isn't a competition, so help others out
- Think before you speak (ask yourself if your words are kind and considerate)
- Respect others' boundaries no matter what
- Recognize that others may be struggling even if you are not aware of it

COMMUNITY OUTREACH NEWSLETTER

Unity in NHS and NJHS

Many chapters in the National Honor Society are unaware of the existence of other chapters and their initiatives. The easiest way for this to be changed is by chapters having their own social media accounts and/or following other chapters' accounts. Since the CANHS is so spread out throughout the different regions of CT, having a mode of communication that doesn't include transportation is crucial. This way, we could all share our ideas with each other and make a more significant change in the community!

2025-2026

Ticket prices for the CT CANHS Leadership Conference will increase from $30 to $40 due to inflation. Be sure to plan your trips accordingly with this information.

HOW TO GET INVOLVED
