Empowering Inclusivity in the Workforce: A Conversation with Industry Leaders

You're invited.

At Apple, we believe that technology should be accessible to everyone. In recognition of Global Accessibility Awareness Day, Apple is hosting a virtual celebration to promote inclusive best practices and emphasize how technology can support and empower everyone. Join us for a national leadership event to discover ideas and resources from Apple that allow all students, employees, and leaders to learn, communicate, and create in new and powerful ways.

Here's what you'll experience:

- Discover how Apple's commitment to diversity and inclusion, accessibility, and privacy drive innovation for everyone.
- Explore how life-changing accessibility features built in across Apple products and services are used every day, across industries.
- Gain insights from a panel of special guests on how industries such as media, education, and enterprise are redefining accessibility expectations and establishing relevant and inclusive best practices for a more accessible workforce.
- Be a part of a national discussion about championing inclusivity in the workforce by cultivating effective inclusive education and training, followed by inclusive hiring and employment.

Don't miss this opportunity to celebrate #GAAD2023 by learning from industry leaders how inclusive design and best practices are revolutionizing today's workforce. At Apple, we believe the world works best when everybody is in. And nobody is out.

We hope you are in.

Details
Thursday, May 18, 2023
11:00 a.m. — 12:30 p.m. PST
2:00 p.m. — 3:30 p.m. EST

Location
Virtual Meeting via WebEx

What to expect:
- A conversation with Apple Accessibility leadership about innovating for everyone, everyday
- A discussion with panel of special guests who are industry leaders in media, education, and enterprise
- Recommendations for how to create a more inclusive learning and working environment for individuals with disabilities

Join the conversation. Register here now.
*Full registration link is below

Register

If you need accommodations to support you during this event, send an email to td@apple.com by Wednesday, May 17th. Information in your request will be captured solely for the purposes of providing the accommodation, and will not be saved beyond the date of the event.

Registration Link:
https://appleinc.webex.com/weblink/register/rdc42792928df139550fcc8354e6c9f08