

FALL STUDENT LEADERSHIP PROGRAMS

Wednesday, November 14
Friday, November 16, 2012
A New Location Each Day!

FEATURING

Speaker: Ann Postlewaite

The Connecticut Student Activities Conference is pleased to announce that Ann Postlewaite, Director of Student Programs for the National Association of Secondary School Principals, will be the key note presenter at the Fall Conferences.

Ann has a passion for working with student leaders and advisors at both middle and high schools. She believes in using hands on, interactive activities that keep participants engaged during the learning process. Ann shares many activities and skills that can be immediately implemented in virtually any school setting.

Ann Postlewaite was a student council advisor for nineteen years, a student activities coordinator for 10 years, and has served as curriculum director for national leadership camps. She has presented at numerous state and national student council workshops and conferences. She loves meeting student leaders and advisors around the country and sharing her enthusiasm for student activities wherever she goes.

Ann has received the prestigious Earl Reum Award from the National Association of Student Councils for her important work. The former director of student leadership for the Minnesota Association of Secondary School Principals, Ann can always be recognized wearing one of her many crazy hats! It is an honor for CSAC to have Ann Postlewaite as our key note presenter!

Student leaders and their advisors play a critical role in developing a positive school climate. Whatever the desired educational, social, or emotional outcomes, participation in student activities is the common denominator that drives upscale student achievement. Capable class, club, honor society, government advisors all know that participation in student activities increases test scores, graduation rates and college acceptance. That is precisely why our Fall leadership conferences will shine a spotlight on the role that student leaders and their advisors play in our schools.

ROUND TABLE FACILITATORS NEEDED!

Our fall conferences are looking for Round Table student facilitators to guide their peers through a series of questions linked to the Essential Question. Students should feel comfortable leading a group discussion and asking peers to share what is special about their school or program.

Students interested in serving as a Round Table Facilitator should EMAIL to jenniferbuckley1@gmail.com the following information:

STUDENT NAME
SCHOOL GRADE
ADVISOR NAME
SHORT SUMMARY OF GROUP FACILITATION
EXPERIENCE

Students selected as Round Table Facilitators will be notified via email and will be provided with the lesson plan for the activity. Round Table Facilitators must register with their school and may not attend a session without an adviser.

SAMPLE ROUND TABLE QUESTIONS

Participants will explore the following:

What is right?

Who defines what is right?

What part do values play in what is right?

Which values determine decision making?

2012-2013
Leadership
Workshop Series

The Connecticut Association of Student Councils is proud to offer member schools two student programs in November 2012 and state-wide conference experience in March 2013.

Please join us as we spend the year
examining the conundrum:

I AM A LEADER, SO NOW
WHAT IS RIGHT?

And in the fall:
As a leader, how do I work within my group?
