

Join Us for a K–5 Literacy Leadership Webinar

Culturally Responsive Teaching & Equitable Instruction Through the Lens of MTSS

This session will demonstrate critical, evidence-based strategies designed to accommodate fragile learners, use culturally responsive teaching to improve literacy skills, and utilize key intervention strategies to ensure equitable instruction for all learners.

Please join us for a research-fueled session focused on targeted differentiation for our most fragile learners and the fastest-growing student population in our country: English language learners (ELLs). In this highly engaging session, Marisa Russo, nationally recognized bilingual speaker and EL development specialist, will share proven strategies for dramatically accelerating language and literacy gains. With a focus on differentiated instruction and targeted literacy scaffolds, we can help all students overcome barriers and raise equitable access to education, career prospects and prosperity of future generations. Promoting and Ensuring Academic Equity for ALL Learners!
