

CAS Pre-K-Grade 3 Forum

Leading PreK-3 Learning Communities

This session will introduce principals and school leaders to the Competencies for Effective Principal Practice as we look at the elements of Pre-K-3 programs. Participants will review the competencies, discuss the strategies, and focus on their school to develop a personalized plan.

Andrea Brinnel, Education Consultant at the Connecticut Office of Early Childhood, will present an overview of the PreK-3 initiative including the national and state landscape. Andrea will include information about the importance of building a high quality continuum of learning for young children during the developmental period of early childhood (birth through grade 3).

NAESP – The National Association of Elementary School Principals – has published a guide to support the essential role of principals in creating quality learning systems. It is a tool to not only keep pace with the changing role of early childhood in the profession, but to help support children to reach their greatest potential.
