

How After School Can Support Common Core Implementation

The research is clear, durational participation in after-school programs can help close or even eliminate the achievement gap. Through intentional program design, programs can embed habits that support Common Core Standards and strengthen partnerships between school and after-school programs. In this session, participants will learn how to use the after-school style of teaching and learning to support impactful programming.