

Last Call For The

SUMMER UNCONFERENCES

Join fellow principals, assistant principals, and deans from across Connecticut for a Summer Unconference—a collaborative experience designed by school leaders, for school leaders.

There are no presenters, no PowerPoints, and no preset agenda. Instead, participants shape the conversation, share challenges and successes, exchange ideas, and learn from one another in a relaxed, professional setting.

Whether you are thinking about staffing, scheduling, school culture, student support, instructional leadership, professional learning, or the countless other issues that keep school leaders busy, these sessions provide an opportunity to step away from your desk and engage in meaningful conversations with colleagues who understand the work.
